Mistress J. Ellen Foster Talks to Several People.

ONLY REPUBLICAN RANT.

DEMOCRACY, OF COURSE, RESPON-

In the Republican Camp-The Woods

Several people, without regard to age, sex or previous condition of serv-itude, were present at the old federal tress J. Ellen Foster, late of Kansas, Nebraska and several other principal cities, expound the doctrines of Republicanism. The address was delivered under the auspices of the Central Republican club, and an umbrella, and

There was a hitch in the proceedings from the start. While the proparings from the start. While the proparamme announced that time would be called at 8 p. m., the failure on the part of the chosen referee, Judge Goodwin, to appear, apparently delayed matters. Hurried consultations on the part of the committee and Mistress J. Elien Foster, who was hovering in the background, elicited the verdict that something of more than usual importance was happening by telegraph, and that the judge was delayed in preparing comments thereon. So it was decided to go ahead and accordingly Judge Bennett was selected to break the ice.

The judge opened the meeting by the time-worn declaration that he was no speaker, which no one denied, and after tendering an apology for his presence, introduced Judge Zane, whose duty, he said, was to introduce the speaker. Judge Zane pleaded not guilty to the impeachment, and set up that while willing to undertake the task, he wished to be understood as representing Judge Goodwin, who had been previously chosen. Judge Zane then wandered off into a political rhapsody, beginning with: "Fellow citizens, standing as we are today upon the brink of dire disaster and downfall" and winding up with: "I now have the honor of intrudeing to you Mrs. and winding up with: "I now have the honor of intrudeing to you Mrs. I"— when who should appear but. Judge Goodwin, and the cheers which were on the programme were switched.

Judge Zane was too old a diplomat to be embarrassed, however, and got off the right horn of the dilemma by presenting Judge Goodwin to the audience, the latter assisting him by remarking that this was the proudest moment of his life, succeeding which he shook both hands of Mistress J. Ellen Foster and warned the audience to stand from under.

THE START.

Mistress J. Ellen Foster then began. Some Republicans are content to begin the stigmatization of Democracy with the declaration that within the last thirty years it has successfully hoodoed the nation. Not so Mistress J. J. T. Donahoe, as chairman, soon had everything in order, and there for two hours Judge Pike, Messrs. R. Tone and J. S. Hyde entertained a crowded hours Judge Pike, Messrs. R. Tone and Jonahoe, and several other minor incidents led her listeners down to date in a dissertation which conclusively shows that the Democracy with a date in a dissertation which conclusively

Drifting from this theme on to the tariff, Mistress J. Ellen Foster affirmed that the first tariff bill was introduced by a Republican, passed by Republicans and carried into effect by Republicans. The homestead law, by Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, was then taken up and accredited to a Republican, after which the speakeress drifted into there should be no one suitable to represent them just as well as any business man or lawyer not living in the district, and as such, knowing little or nothing about their circumstances. Then comes the "foreigners vs. Americans," an attack upon the former and labor unions. Why the gentleman should bring that in in the discussion of the constitution is rather peculiar, the more so when he has no remedy to offer for the evils he is complaining about. Therefore it must be looked upon as intended merely for abuse. Being a Scandinavian myself and speaking for them, I do not think there has been any Scandinavian proposed or elected to any office 'hat was so ignorant that he was unable to speak, read or write. (I admit that his expressions might be in a broken tongue, but that isn't saying the man is utterly ignorant as Mr. Helst is trying to make it.) In fact I do not think the gentleman knows what he is writing about, for the Scandinavians as a people ask for no representation as such. But when any of their friends just as good and capable of filling a position of trust and honor, are named, we do not like to hear a howl going up "he is only a foreigner," which just as good and capable of filling a position of trust and honor, are named, we do not like to hear a howl going up "he is only a foreigner." which expression is sometimes used by demagosues to defeat his nomination. We believe that it matters little where a man is born and raised; if a foreign nation has paid expenses for his schooling and his learing of trades, etc., it should not be looked upon as a detriment to this country, inasmuch as he will have to pay the same proportion of taxes and burdens of the community he is living in as any American. All that the Scandinavians ask is equal rights and they are willing to bear the equal burden. But what we do not like is the principle that Mr. Heist is advocating, that a few lawyers and select business men shall make all the laws, and hold all the offices, and that the hod carriers, laborers, foreigners, farmers and all others should only perform the duty of voting like cattle, which would make Utah truly a "cow state." Such ideas are surely un-democratic, and un-American, and to say that class of men will legislate for the cratic, and un-American, and to say that class of men will legislate for the benefit of the laboring classes is non-sense. The last twenty-five years' leg-islation proves it to be so, for the party that has been in power during party that has been in power during that time have continually plead that their special effort was to make laws to benefit the above mentioned classes, and the result is that twenty-five thousand of the select classes are in possession of more wealth than all the remaining inhabitants of the United States. I believe that the best state constitution that Utah can get will be one non-partisan and truly representive both in spifit and reality. Nothing could give demogagues a better opportunity than what Mr. Heist is offering by way of suggestion—that the voters of by way of suggestion—that the voters of one district have a right to east their votes for a candidate who is nominated to represent another district, or in other words, giving an excellent opportunity to display unlimited political trickery.
